1. INTRODUCTION

Sound corporate governance is an important component in creating and sustaining shareholder value while ensuring behaviour is ethical, legal, and transparent.

Alkhabeer Capital (hereinafter referred to as “the Company” or “Alkhabeer”), believes corporate governance is fundamentally concerned with creating sustainable shareholder value, without ignoring the interests of other stakeholders in the company such as; employees, partners, customers and the community at large.

This corporate governance manual provides a basis for promoting the highest standards of corporate governance at Alkhabeer. This Manual has been developed in accordance to the “Corporate Governance regulations” set by the Capital Markets Authority (CMA) which is applicable to publicly listed companies in Saudi Arabia as part of the company’s plan to become listed in the near future. Further, this manual relates to the Company Policies, and internationally recognized practices.

The practices set out in this manual apply to Alkhabeer, insofar as they are capable of being applied to the practice of sound corporate governance, and will be reviewed regularly, once every year and updated if required. The Board of Directors approves any changes done to this manual, to ensure that Alkhabeer remains at the forefront of global best practice while maintaining sustainable ethical standards.

Where the provisions in this corporate governance manual are not in line with Company Policies, Capital Markets Authority (CMA) regulations or the Company’s Articles of Association, the Company Policies, CMA regulations and Articles of Association shall always prevail.

1.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of the corporate governance manual is to:

- Document the corporate governance policies and procedures of Alkhabeer Capital.
- Serve as means of defining and clarifying the responsibilities associated with all personnel responsible for originating and processing documents and records pertaining to the Board and its Committees.
- Provide shareholders, the Board of Directors, and management with a tool to address governance related issues.

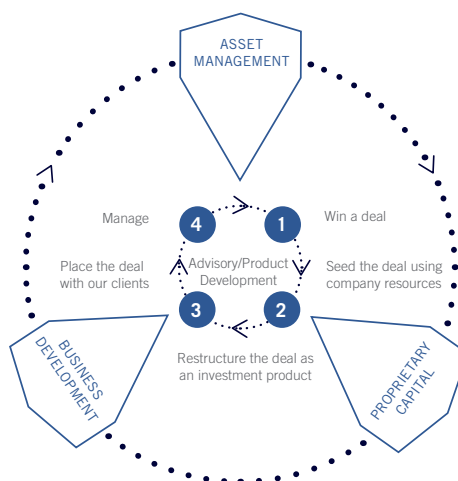

1.2 BUSINESS MODEL OF THE COMPANY

AKC’s business model is a function of three departments: Asset Management Division (“AMD”), Proprietary Capital Department (“PCD”), and Business Development Division (“BDD”) that work in synchrony on key steps:

- Sourcing, assessing and closing deals;
- Seeding the deals;
- Restructure / Package the deal as an investment product;
- Placing the deal to suitable investors; and
- Managing the product/s post-closing

Proprietary Capital is relied upon to underwrite deals and fuel the engine of growth; thus capturing opportunities and allowing clients to co-invest at the appropriate stage.

AKC's business model can be summarized as follows:

1.2.1 COMPANY RISK APPETITE

Risk Appetite Statement is the strategic articulation by the Board of the risks the company is willing to manage in pursuit of its business plan and is willing to undertake.

The Board delegates to the Senior Management the management of risks within the Company's business model and the approved investment policy.

A certain level of risk is inherent in any business and Alkhabeer Capital's risk appetite should be a satisfactory trade-off between the level of risk and the likely level of returns (or costs) limited to as much as possible to the business model and investment policy.

1.3 MEASUREMENT AND ACCOUNTABILITY

1.3.1 MANAGING COMPANY PERFORMANCE

It is expected that the Company management will use corporate KPIs as dashboards to help the Company achieve its stated goals set in the 5 years Business plan and its annual budget which provides:

- Alignment, visibility, and collaboration across the Company by allowing the Board to define, monitor, and analyze business performance via KPIs.
- The foundation for enabling the Company collective functions to more effectively align their business strategy with execution.

1.3.1.1 KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

The structure of the corporate KPIs stems from the balanced score-card methodology to measure performance against priorities, and attempts to look beyond typical financial indicators by measuring non-financial indicators and to ensure the alignment with the mission and vision of the Company.

Accordingly, Corporate KPIs comprise:

- Financial KPIs; reflect lagging indicators that measure the tangible outcomes of the strategy.
 - Customer KPIs; reflects the value proposition that defines the source of value.
 - Operations KPIs; reflect the continuous innovation, improvement and automation of business processes to drive efficiency and effectiveness within the regulatory framework.
 - People KPIs; reflect the empowerment and alignment of the company's single most valuable intangible asset to drive improvements to the strategic process and its implementation.

1. Assets under Management	2. Return on Equity
3. Return on Assets	4. Return on Investments
5. Profit Margin	6. Current Ratio
7. Debt to Equity	8. Efficiency Ratios

1.3.1.3 IMPLEMENTING COMPANY WIDE PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

3.14 AUTHORITY MATRIX

The objective of the matrix is to provide, at all times, a clear definition with regards to who will set and maintain a sufficient degree of control over Alkhabeer's operations in line with their fiduciary responsibilities to the Board of Directors. The matrix provides sufficient degree of flexibility to the executive and senior management team so that the day-to-day affairs and operations of the Company can be carried out in an efficient, flexible and realistic manner (see Appendix "E").

3.17.2 BOARD AGENDA

The ED establishes the agendas for Board meetings and circulates them to other Board members or other relevant persons through the Corporate Secretary, after seeking approval from the Chairman of the Board.

Each Director is free to suggest items for the agenda, and each Director is free to raise subjects that are not on the meeting agenda before the commencement of the Board meeting.

The careful preparation of the agenda enhances board productivity, and strengthens its strategic and advisory role. At every regular Board meeting Directors should:

Directors should review in advance any materials sent to them in order to take part in a meaningful deliberation at the meeting. Once convened, the Board shall approve the agenda. Should any objection be raised at this time, the details of such objection shall be entered in the meeting minutes.

3.17.3 FREQUENCY OF MEETINGS

3.17.4 DURATION OF MEETINGS

The length of Board meetings should be sufficient to give appropriate attention to the issue at hand. Board meetings can vary significantly in duration. It is essential that the meeting should be long enough to cover the agenda in appropriate detail.

3.18 BOARD PAPERS

Board papers should be concise standalone documents that present the information the Board requires to fully understand the issues being raised and make appropriately informed decisions.

The purpose of each Board paper should be clearly stated. This is particularly important in assisting the Board in understanding management's requirements and appropriately preparing for Board meetings. This can be achieved by allocating each Board paper into one of three distinct categories:

1. For informative purposes: papers aimed at keeping the Board informed of matters, for example, relevant press clippings and financial information.
2. For decision: matters put forward that require the Board's decision.
3. For discussion and input: discussion of matters prior to final recommendations, for example, providing concept papers seeking the Board's input throughout the planning phase, rather than simply when a final decision is required.

Formal guidelines for Board reporting are to be approved by the Board annually to ensure the Board's requirements are clearly understood. These guidelines will set out the form, presentation and content requirements for Board papers, together with administrative procedures in relation to the time of submission and process for review and approval.

The guidelines should also provide that the control over distribution of Board papers rests with the Board. This is particularly important when distribution is undertaken electronically.

The Board should ensure that these guidelines are communicated to all staff via corporate secretary, that may be responsible for the preparation of Board papers. It is recommended to offer internal support to key personnel in the form of educational or briefing programs and to distribute sample or template documents illustrative of the recommended style.

3.19 COMPLETE AND TIMELY INFORMATION

The Board must insist that management advise it of all material corporate developments and that this information is complete and provided on a timely basis. Matters reported to the Board, or submitted for its consideration, should be adequately documented. Reliance on what is purely volunteered by management is unlikely to be enough in all circumstances and further enquires may be required. The Board should have separate and independent access to Alkhabeer's senior management and the Corporate Secretary. Information provided should include:

1. Relevant background and explanatory information;
2. Copies of disclosure documents;
3. Budgets, with explanations on material variances between projection and actual results;
4. Forecasts;
5. Balanced and understandable monthly management accounts and prospects; and
6. Non-financial performance indicators in a KPIs format.

It is important that what is ultimately presented to the Board is concise and performance reports reflect relevant and approved Key Performance Indicators ("KPIs") and not superfluous information.

3.19.1 INFORMATION TO BE DISTRIBUTED PRIOR TO MEETINGS

Information packages regarding the Company's business and performance will be distributed to all Directors prior to Board meetings. In order to keep track of these matters, an "action items" list should be maintained by the Corporate Secretary to be updated after each meeting and distributed along with the minutes of the meeting. The action item list will contain a brief description of the actions to be taken, cross referenced to the relevant item in the minutes. The list should also note the responsible person and the date by which the action is to be completed.

A review of the action items should be a standing item on the Board's agenda to ensure management are progressing with specific tasks in line with the Board's expectations.
